

ASICOMP.COM

Portal > Knowledgebase > ASI SmartBooks Knowledgebase > Products > How Do You Default All Products to Print on the Packing List?

How Do You Default All Products to Print on the Packing List?

Angie K - 2023-07-11 - in Products

How Do You Default All Products to Print on the Packing List?

System Preferences has an Order Preferences setting allowing you to 'Include all products on packing list'.

This option follows the similar logic of the same question within the program resource, if you use expanded inventory, including that it will not affect additional charges and will affect freight lines.

If the setting is checked, all new lines added to quotes/orders will default as checked to 'Include on packing list', unless the order contains a program. If an order contains a program, the setting from the program will take priority.

Order imports will only use the System Preference setting if there is no program in the file and the product in the file has no <IncludeOnPackingList> node.

The screenshot shows the 'System Preferences' dialog box with the 'Order Preferences' section expanded. The 'Include all products on packing list' checkbox is checked and highlighted with a red box. Other visible settings include 'Last Order Number' (108), 'Assign each order number' (unchecked), 'Automated Order Import User' (dropdown), 'Update order with Freight Only Bill-Apply information' (unchecked), 'Automatically close orders once the following associated transaction(s) are complete' (Invoice Processing), and 'Tracking - Process Defaults' (Customer/Vendor).

Note: This does not include AC (additional charge) items.