At the Product level, this address can be changed to ship products between vendors or ship products to multiple Ship to Addresses. This change needs to take place at the product level and each product can have a unique destination that over-rides the order's Ship to Address.

Within each product expander is the ability to over-ride or change certain information regarding that product. Select Destination under the specific product to change the ship to location from the final customer (which is the default) to another vendor or address.
