I Edited Quantities on an Order and the Price Changed!

When entering a regular order and using item masters on the line items the Price is changing if I edit the quantities.

When entering the line items, price was changed to something different than what defaulted in. Later someone went back in and edited the quantity of one of the lines and the price changed back to the price on the item master.

Anytime you change the quantity of a line item that is a item master, it re-reads the quantity price breaks and will change the price based on those.
